

Abstract of the Invention

A catalyst system comprising the product resulting from the combination of a metallocene having a monoorganoamide radical attached to the metal of the metallocene and a cocatalyst having alkylaluminum groups and the use of such catalyst systems in the polymerization of olefin.

5

0925260, 02239